

SELF-PAID TEMPORARY ACCOMMODATION OPTIONS FOR ESSENTIAL HEALTHCARE WORKERS

PHSA recognizes that some essential healthcare workers may be seeking temporary accommodation to self-isolate from families and roommates as they continue to perform their jobs.

We are communicating with housing providers throughout the Province to create a supply of self-paid temporary accommodation options at reduced rates. Several providers have come forward and offered discounted rates for essentials service healthcare workers. This information is captured below and we will continue to provide updates as new offers are secured.

If your region/area is not covered by the options provided below, please let us know so we can support you in finding another option. Email TempStaffAccomm@phsa.ca

Some communities have contacted their local hotels and made donations to offset the room costs. This is on a first-come first-served basis. Please enquire when making a booking whether this is available to you. Keep your receipts in the event a community donor makes a donation in the future.

Some criteria to help you with your decision-making:

1. You are working in active COVID patient care;
2. You are actively providing patient care and live with elders or family who are immune-compromised;
3. You live with another active COVID patient care worker.
